As we begin a new decade, Australian company boards remain dominated by men, with female representation still sitting at less than 30 per cent. The VCCC alliance challenges the so-called norm and women make up the majority of board members and committee chairs.

Over the past few years, the VCCC alliance has grown from a fledgling concept to a dynamic, collaborative force that is changing the way we tackle cancer in Victoria. To mark International Women’s Day 2020, join us for a special forum with some inspiring women as they discuss the qualities needed by leaders in collaborative environments to drive innovation and culture change.

Professor Linda Kristjanson AO, VCCC Chairperson, Vice-Chancellor Swinburne University with a panel featuring:

Ms Sophy Athan, Chair, VCCC Cancer Consumer Advisory Committee
Dr Shelley Dolan, CEO Peter MacCallum Cancer Centre; VCCC Board Member
Associate Professor Kylie Mason, Consultant Haematologist and Clinician Researcher, Peter MacCallum Cancer Centre, The Royal Melbourne Hospital; Chair, VCCC Cancer Education and Training Advisory Committee
Dr Sue Matthews, CEO The Royal Women’s Hospital; VCCC Board Member
Ms Angela Nolan, CEO of St Vincent’s Hospital Melbourne; VCCC Board Member

Master of Ceremonies: Professor Grant McArthur, VCCC Executive Director

Date: Monday 2 March 2020
Time: Light lunch from 12.15pm. Presentation 12.45pm-2.00pm
Venue: Lecture Theatres, Level 7, VCCC Building
305 Grattan St, Melbourne
RSVP: Please RSVP via viccompcancerctr.org/events

Keep up-to-date with events, news and opportunities by subscribing to our mailing list: viccompcancerctr.org/subscribe