

VICTORIAN
COMPREHENSIVE
CANCER CENTRE

RESEARCH
CONFERENCE '19

The Next Wave

FREE PUBLIC FORUM

The Next Wave: the future of cancer care from Victoria and beyond

Grand Ballroom
Sofitel Melbourne On Collins
Tuesday 17 September 2019
6.00pm for refreshments
6.30pm - 8.00pm

All are welcome to a free event to close Victoria's major cancer research conference. Hear about current cancer research and treatment and what it means for Victorians, the nation and our region. Join us for non-alcoholic drinks and canapes from 6.00pm.

Bookings essential. viccompccancerctr.org/events/the-next-wave

Hosted by multi-award winning ABC journalist Natasha Mitchell in conversation with leading Australian and international experts:

- > Professor Doug Hanahan, author of Hallmarks of Cancer
- > Professor Mei Krishnasamy, Chair in Cancer Nursing University of Melbourne
- > Professor Grant McArthur, leading melanoma specialist and VCCC Executive Director
- > Professor Rob Ramsay, patient treated for prostate cancer and joint head Gastrointestinal Cancer Program; both at Peter Mac

And joined by Alison Jones, author of The Jones Family Food Roster, a story of embracing life in the face of cancer.

Supported by

Victorian Comprehensive Cancer Centre members

